"To say that Cindy is a valuable and vital part of my team would actually be an understatement. I have worked with high end professionals before, but Cindy tops them all. I am very demanding of my team and set high expectations. Cindy is the penultimate VA and demonstrates her expertise at every turn.

One of the aspects I like most about Cindy is that I can give her a project and with little to no guidance from me she can create massive results on a consistent basis. Without a doubt, I absolutely, positively could not run my successful business without her assistance and expertise."

~ Stephen Fairley, CEO, The Rainmaker Institute www.TheRainmakerInstitute.com

"When I met Cindy a few years ago, I knew immediately that she was a Virtual Assistant to 'sit up and take notice' of. Having built her VA business from scratch, Cindy knows what it takes to build and maintain a successful business. But more importantly, as Managing Partner of the Multiple Streams Team she has an innate understanding of what both clients and VAs are looking for. Having spoken to literally hundreds of potential clients in the past 3 years, Cindy has taken her own keen sense of how to work successfully with clients and created a set of simple and effective tools that any VA can apply in their own business.

I recommend this book to anyone who is starting a VA business or struggling with their existing business... it's time to take control of your success and Virtually Successful will help you do that."
